

Nutrien Indigenous Youth Financial Management Awards and Scholarship Fund 2018 Fact Sheet

Purpose:

There is a great demand both within Indigenous communities and off-reserve for Indigenous financial management professionals. However, very few of our young people are pursuing an education in financial management after high school. There are many opportunities for those who want to pursue this career path and there are many sources of assistance.

That is why AFOA Canada and Nutrien have come together to offer Nutrien Indigenous Youth Financial Management Awards and Scholarship Program. Applicants will be subject to a two-phased program with this award.

PHASE I is to recognize and award 3 Indigenous youth with a trip to Ottawa, Ontario for four (4) days to attend the awards ceremony and the AFOA National Conference on October 2-4, 2018. Recipients will be introduced to career opportunities in finance and sources of support, read their winning essays at a special luncheon in their honour, participate in a special youth session designed to develop leadership skills and participate in many other social activities in Ottawa.

Applicants are requested to submit essays (maximum 1500 words) addressing the following questions by May 18, 2018:

1. Tell us a bit about yourself and your community?
2. How will a career in finance, management or leadership help you "make a difference"?
3. What do you think the ultimate job would be and why?
4. How do you see technology being part of your life and that of your community in the future?
5. How can today's community leaders support you through your educational and career choices?
